About ICG

A short glimpse in our professional life, in our beliefs and values

About ICG

We work with a special consulting approach that combines change management, organizational design and business aspects in a “state-of-the-art” way.

We support companies of all sectors – corporations, medium-sized companies, public-sector companies – and know each of the specific features.

Supporting transformation processes means for us also the professional design of change communication including large group events as well as learning formats.

Our team exclusively consists of very experienced change management professionals who are fully committed to the cause and create development based on partnership.

Our ICG team consists of 140 consultants from 12 countries and therefore has know-how and experience from different cultures.

We are “hands-on” consultants, impact is more important to us than concepts.
